REPORT

The Add-on ACCA Programme for second-year degree students was successfully conducted during the academic year 2025–2026 as part of the institution's commitment to providing globally recognized professional education alongside regular undergraduate studies. The programme was designed to equip students with foundational knowledge in accounting and finance while preparing them for future ACCA examinations and career opportunities in the global business sector.

The classes were conducted three days a week in a systematic and structured manner. The programme focused on introducing students to core accounting concepts aligned with ACCA standards. Sessions were handled by qualified faculty members with emphasis on conceptual clarity, practical application, and examination-oriented preparation. Students actively participated in classroom discussions, assignments, and interactive learning activities, which significantly improved their academic engagement and understanding of professional accounting practices.

The curriculum included subjects related to accounting, taxation, financial reporting, performance management, and corporate law. In addition to technical ACCA modules, English Communication Skills classes were integrated into the programme to improve students' language proficiency, communication abilities, and professional confidence. These sessions played a vital role in enhancing students' presentation skills, interpersonal communication, and workplace readiness.

Apart from regular ACCA sessions, Employability Enhancement Programmes were also organized during the academic year. These programmes focused on personality development, leadership skills, interview preparation, resume writing, teamwork, and professional etiquette. The sessions were conducted with the objective of preparing students for corporate environments and improving their employability in national and international organizations.

The ACCA integrated curriculum offers students the advantage of obtaining exemptions for nine ACCA papers, thereby enabling faster progression towards the professional qualification. The programme is spread across six semesters and combines academic learning with professional training. Both online and offline teaching methodologies were adopted to ensure effective delivery and flexibility in learning. Internal assessments, assignments, presentations, and practical activities were conducted regularly in alignment with QMU academic standards. Special importance was given to applied learning methods such as group presentations, assignments, case studies, and infographic-based activities. These activities encouraged creativity, analytical thinking, collaboration, and practical understanding among students. The programme also aimed at building overall professional competencies required in the fields of accounting, auditing, finance, and business management.

The ACCA examinations for the respective papers were conducted during the months of April and May 2026. Following the publication of results, it was noted with great pride that all students successfully passed the examinations. The excellent performance reflects the effectiveness of the programme, the dedication of the faculty members, and the consistent efforts of the students throughout the academic year.

Overall, the Add-on ACCA Programme during the academic year 2025–2026 was highly successful in achieving its objectives. The initiative significantly contributed to the academic growth, professional development, communication skills, and employability of the students. The programme continues to serve as a strong platform for preparing students for globally recognized qualifications and successful careers in the finance and accounting industry.
