REPORT

On 11th March, the Competitive Exam Cell organized an insightful session, From Campus to Public Service led by Mr. Haarrish Sabu (Assistant Professor, Department of Computer Science), a seasoned aspirant and achiever in the field of competitive examinations. The program was attended by a large number of students and aspirants, all eager to gain practical guidance from his rich experience.

Mr. Haarish, who has successfully cleared several competitive examinations and reached the interview stage of the prestigious Civil Services Examination, shared his journey with remarkable candidness. He explained the rigorous demands of the Civil Services process, emphasizing the importance of discipline, consistent preparation, and a clear strategy. His personal anecdotes about overcoming challenges and maintaining focus, provided inspiration and encouragement to the audience.

The session was comprehensive, covering examinations at multiple levels—from Civil Services to banking, SSC, and other lower-level competitive tests. Mr. Haarish highlighted the similarities in preparation methods, such as the role of current affairs, logical reasoning, and effective time management. He also pointed out the differences in exam structures, helping students understand how to tailor their preparation for each. Practical tips on note-making, revision schedules, and the use of mock tests were shared, giving participants concrete strategies to improve their performance.

Beyond academic preparation, Mr. Haarish stressed the importance of resilience, confidence, and mental strength. He encouraged aspirants to treat setbacks as stepping stones and to remain motivated throughout their journey. His words resonated deeply, especially when he emphasized perseverance as the ultimate key to success. The interactive nature of the session allowed students to clarify doubts and seek personalized advice, making the program highly engaging. Overall, the session proved to be effective, detailed, and impactful. Organized by the Competitive Exam Cell, it provided valuable guidance and motivation, leaving participants better equipped and inspired to pursue their goals.
