REPORT

The Department of Hotel Management at Naipunnya Institute of Management and Information Technology (NIMIT) successfully conducted the Catering and COVID–Food Safety Supervisor Final Examination on 21 and 22 May 2026 at the Main Block Seminar Hall. The examination was organized for fourth-semester Hotel Management students with the objective of assessing their knowledge and competency in food safety, hygiene, sanitation, and safe catering practices. The programme was guided by Mr. James Mathai, an experienced HACCP and FOSTAC Trainer and Managing Director of FHEMS. His expertise and professional insights provided students with a comprehensive understanding of contemporary food safety standards and regulatory requirements within the hospitality industry.

The examination evaluated participants on critical areas such as personal hygiene, food contamination prevention, hazard analysis, safe food handling procedures, sanitation protocols, and COVID-related safety measures in food service operations. The initiative aimed to reinforce the importance of maintaining the highest standards of food safety and public health in catering establishments. The successful conduct of the examination reflected the department's commitment to academic excellence and industry-oriented training. It provided students with an opportunity to demonstrate their professional competence and preparedness for responsible roles in the hospitality sector. Overall, the examination served as a valuable platform for enhancing awareness, accountability, and adherence to food safety best practices.
