REPORT

Flower Arrangement is an integral part of hotel housekeeping. To provide a practical orientation of flower arrangement to Second Year Degree Students, a two-day workshop was organized by the department of Hotel Management, NIMIT. 137 students in the second year participated in the event. The resource person was Ms Sherin Abraham Assistant Professor, PG & Research Department of Home Science, Morning Star Home Science College Angamaly.

The sessions included a demonstration and use of equipment and tools used in a flower arrangement. The participants were introduced to popular flowers, fillers and foliage used in flower arrangements. The correct way to condition flowers to make them last longer in an arrangement was also taught. The sessions began with the theoretical class followed by hands-on training in the art of flower arrangement. The sessions were very fruitful as they enhanced the participant's knowledge about flower arrangements and created an interest in the students to try making the arrangements. The level of confidence and enthusiasm with which the students prepared their arrangements was also noticed. Sessions like these are much appreciated by the student and teaching fraternity.
