Faculty In-charge: Ms. Rajani Stanley

Date of event: June 2023 to March 2024

REPORT

Every year, a variety of global events serve to unite humanity around shared ideals, promoting peace, security, and bolstering efforts in fostering intercultural dialogue, universal education, respect for human dignity, freedom of expression, and gender equality for sustainable development.

Commemorative celebrations and observances of significant days play a crucial role in educating students about their importance and impact. They enhance awareness of global issues, help preserve historical events, and contribute to the celebration of global heritage, nature, and diverse cultures. Recognizing "National/International Days" is essential for acknowledging pivotal events in human history and existence.

These important days are typically marked by departments, organizations, or clubs through various events and competitions. The commemorative team often highlights these days during assemblies and shares information via social platforms to ensure widespread recognition and participation.
