REPORT

The Synergia 2024-25 program, organized by the I MSW and I M. Com classes under the guidance of class teachers Ms. Joyshree and Ms. Jeena, was successfully held on December 19, 2024, with I BCA (A) batch as the audience. The one-hour event, designed to highlight the spirit of volunteerism, showcased a range of activities, emphasizing the importance of collaboration, community engagement, and creative contributions.

The program began with a Hymn of Grace sung by Anju Biju (MSW), followed by a warm welcome speech by Sneha Cleetus (M. Com). Rosemary (MSW) provided a session overview that connected the theme of volunteerism with the program's various segments. Ancy Joy (MSW) delivered a thought-provoking paper presentation, and Gokul and Amitha N.S. (M.Com) introduced personalities who exemplify volunteerism in their respective fields. Sreyas Nair and Midun Benadict K.V. (M.Com) shared the latest campus and discipline-related news, highlighting ongoing volunteer initiatives.

The creative space segment featured a street play by the I MSW class, illustrating the positive impact of volunteer efforts in the community. A Christmas message by Liya Poulose (M.Com) followed, focusing on the spirit of giving and community. The feedback loop, conducted by a randomly selected audience representative, reflected appreciation for the hosting class's collective volunteer efforts in organizing the event. The vote of thanks by Albin Benny (MSW) acknowledged the hard work and enthusiasm of all participants, while the program concluded with an evaluation by Ms. Rajani Stanley, HOD of the Training Department, and a patriotic song performed by the entire team. The event successfully highlighted the value of volunteerism, underscoring how teamwork, dedication, and selfless service can contribute to personal growth and community well-being.
