Pattanayak

About the Speaker:

Dr. Santosh Kumar Pattanayak, seasoned professional with over three decades of experience in government and public sector enterprises, specializing in finance, infrastructure planning and transportation. As Managing Director of Indian Railway Finance Corporation (IRFC), led the management of a INR 2.2 Lakh Crore ($32 380 MN) balance sheet, optimized funding from domestic and international markets, and spearheaded diversification in the transportation sector. Overview Theme:

Transformative innovation for sustainable development addresses global challenges like climate change, resource depletion, social inequality, and economic instability by fundamentally redefining systems and practices to align with sustainability principles. It goes beyond incremental changes, driving systemic shifts in how societies produce, consume, and interact with the environment to achieve ecological balance, economic growth, and social equity. By integrating sustainability into innovation processes, this approach prioritizes economic and environmental considerations, promoting solutions such as renewable energy, sustainable agriculture, and low-carbon transportation systems to reduce environmental footprints while enhancing quality of life. Supporting the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), transformative innovation fosters collaboration among governments, businesses, academia, and civil society to generate breakthrough ideas, address the root causes of unsustainability, and build inclusive, resilient societies for a sustainable future.
