REPORT

The PG Department of English, in association with the Naipunnya Centre for Research, organised a Faculty Development Session titled “Navigating E-Resources and Mastering Citation Styles” for the academic staff of the Department of Languages on Friday, 17 October 2025, from 2.30 p.m. to 3.30 p.m. The session was conducted at the MBA Conference Hall, NIMIT. The programme was conceived as an academic enrichment and capacity-building initiative aimed at strengthening faculty engagement with research, scholarly writing, and digital academic resources.

In the context of the growing emphasis on quality research output, ethical scholarship, and adherence to publication standards, the session sought to enhance faculty competence in effectively navigating electronic research resources and applying standardized citation styles. The programme addressed the increasing need for faculty members to remain updated with evolving research tools and documentation practices, especially in language and humanities disciplines. The session was led by the resource person, Dr. Jose Poulose, Chief Librarian, who delivered a comprehensive and practice-oriented presentation tailored to the requirements of academic staff. He introduced participants to a wide range of e-resources, including subscription-based databases, open-access journals, digital repositories, and indexing platforms relevant to language and humanities research. He also highlighted effective search strategies, techniques for evaluating the credibility of sources, and methods for integrating e-resources into classroom teaching and research supervision.

A major focus of the session was on mastering citation styles. Dr. Poulose emphasized the importance of accurate referencing in academic publications, curriculum design, and research guidance. He discussed commonly used citation formats, best practices in research documentation, and strategies to ensure originality and prevent plagiarism. The interactive nature of the session enabled faculty members to seek clarifications related to citation norms and publication ethics. The programme was coordinated by Dr. Veena Vijaya, Associate Professor, NIMIT, under the guidance of the Head of the Department, Dr. Purnima S. Kumar. Faculty participants found the session highly relevant and beneficial. The programme contributed positively to updating faculty knowledge, strengthening research practices, and fostering a research-oriented academic culture within the Department of Languages.
