REPORT

On 15 August 2024, to commemorate Independence Day, the NSS volunteers of Naipunnnya College carried out a dedicated cleaning drive at Gandhigram Government Hospital. The initiative was undertaken as part of the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan and aimed to uphold the ideals of public cleanliness and civic responsibility. Volunteers actively participated in cleaning various parts of the hospital, including the premises, waiting areas, corridors, and walkways. Equipped with cleaning tools and protective gear, they worked diligently to improve the hygiene and overall appearance of the healthcare facility.

This meaningful activity served not only to create a cleaner and healthier environment for patients, visitors, and hospital staff but also to spread awareness about the importance of maintaining cleanliness in public health institutions. The hospital authorities and several onlookers appreciated the volunteers' efforts and acknowledged the positive impact of such socially responsible programmes.

Through this initiative, the volunteers were reminded of Mahatma Gandhi's enduring message that "cleanliness is next to godliness." The drive highlighted the role of youth in nation-building and in bringing about tangible change through service. It was a true reflection of the NSS motto, "Not Me, But You," inspiring a deeper commitment to community welfare among all participants.
