REPORT

During the NAAC Peer Team Revisit held on 28–29 November 2024, the NSS unit of the institution took the opportunity to showcase its vibrant spirit of service and innovation through a well-curated exhibition. The event highlighted a wide array of NSS activities, social outreach initiatives, and student-led projects that had been undertaken throughout the academic year. The exhibition included detailed reports, project summaries, and impactful photographs, providing a glimpse into the meaningful work carried out by the volunteers.

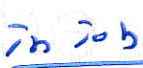

A unique highlight of the exhibition was the creative use of recycled materials for decoration. Students reused old jute materials and discarded bottles to design the display space in an eco-friendly and aesthetically appealing manner. The jute was used to craft banners, table runners, and wall décor, while old bottles were beautifully hand-painted and repurposed as hanging planters. These bottles, suspended with ropes and containing lush green plants, added a touch of vibrancy and symbolised sustainable living.

The NAAC peer team highly appreciated the thoughtful presentation and the volunteers' commitment to community service and environmental responsibility. Their commendation reinforced the importance of integrating social consciousness and creativity into academic life, and it served as a proud moment for the entire NSS team and the institution.
