REPORT

A Fabric Painting Workshop was conducted under Akrithi exclusively for the Fashion Design students at the FD Block classroom of NIMIT (Autonomous) on 6th March 2026 at 2:00 p.m. The workshop was organized to encourage creativity and provide practical knowledge about fabric surface decoration techniques. A total of 8 students from the Fashion Design department actively participated in the workshop.

The session was hosted by Ms. Alakananda, Assistant Professor, NIMIT (Autonomous), who guided the students throughout the workshop and demonstrated the basic techniques of fabric painting. She explained the importance of fabric painting in fashion design and how it can be used to create unique and customized textile designs. Prior to the session, students were informed to bring the required materials such as fabric paints, brushes, and fabric pieces for the activity.

During the workshop, the design to be painted was provided by the host. Students carefully followed the instructions and practiced the techniques demonstrated during the session. Ms. Alakananda monitored their work and provided guidance and suggestions to help them improve their painting skills and finishing techniques.

The workshop created an interactive and creative learning environment where students could explore their artistic abilities. Overall, the session was successful and helped the students gain hands-on experience in fabric painting.
