REPORT

The selection process for the Leading Hands Program (LHP) was conducted on 08/12/2025 at 1:30 p.m. in the MBA Seminar Hall with the objective of identifying capable and enthusiastic first-year students to be part of the programme. The selection process was carried out in a systematic and structured manner to evaluate the skills, creativity, and personality of the participants.

More than 73 students participated in the selection process, showing great interest and enthusiasm. The process consisted of two rounds designed to assess different abilities of the candidates.

The first round was a collage-making competition based on the topic "The Importance of Emotional Intelligence in Leadership." Participants worked in teams and were evaluated based on their creativity, presentation, and understanding of the theme. Based on their performance, 10 teams were shortlisted for the next round.

The shortlisted participants were then assessed individually in the second round, which was a self-introduction session. Each participant introduced themselves by highlighting their strengths, talents, and personal qualities. They also shared areas for improvement and explained their interest in joining the Leading Hands Program. This round helped in assessing the confidence, communication skills, and clarity of thought of the participants.

The rounds were evaluated by Ms. Jeeva Minu, Assistant Professor, Department of English; Ms. Rinku, LHP Teacher Coordinator and Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce; and Mr. Noel, Second Year LHP Coordinator.

After careful evaluation of both rounds, 31 students were selected for the Leading Hands Program. The selected candidates demonstrated strong potential in terms of leadership, communication, creativity, and teamwork.

Overall, the selection process was conducted successfully and provided a fair platform for students to showcase their abilities. The programme witnessed active participation and enthusiasm, making it a meaningful and effective selection process.
